

Daniel Speranza

Daniel Speranza is a Junior Appellate Attorney at the Statewide Appellate Support Center, where he focuses on support in post-conviction matters and emerging discovery issues. For two years, he was an assistant public defender at the Albany County Public Defender's Office. There Daniel handled misdemeanors and felonies, appeared daily in the Domestic Violence Court, and developed initiatives to implement bail and discovery reform laws. He also served as an associate attorney at two upstate law firms. Daniel obtained a B.A. in political science and history cum laude from the College of Saint Rose and his J.D. from Albany Law School, where he was a fellow at the Government Law Center and served on Albany Law Review.
